

New treatment options for gonorrhoea

Translating evidence into policy and practice

 Friday, 16 October 2026
13:00 – 14:25

 South Hall 2A
Prague Congress Centre
Czech Republic

AGENDA

13:00 – 13:10	Welcome of participants
13:10 – 13:20	Responsible introduction of new gonorrhoea treatments: from evidence generation to country decision-making	Seamus O’Brien GARDP, Switzerland
13:20 – 13:45	Building the evidence base for responsible introduction: burden, resistance and impact Moderator: Yonatan Grad, Harvard University, USA
	13:20 – 13:30 Why new treatment options are needed: epidemiology and resistance trends	Magnus Unemo Örebro University, Sweden
	13:30 – 13:40 Where could responsible introduction have the greatest public-health impact?	Albert Manasyan CIDRZ, Zambia
	13:40 – 13:45 Health economics and resistance modelling: where, when and for whom?	Fernando Pascual GARDP, Switzerland
13:45 – 14:20	From evidence to policy: informing country decision-making Moderator: Nicola Low, University of Bern, Switzerland
	13:45– 14:00 Patient pathways, acceptability and treatment uptake in Thailand	Dr Rossaphorn Ministry of Health, Thailand
	14:00 – 14:20 Expert panel: responsible introduction across country contexts	Pamela Gaspar, MoH Brazil Remco Peters, WHO Dr Rossaphorn, MoH Thailand Yonatan Grad, Harvard University
14:20 – 14:25	Closing remarks	